

ACTA MISSIOLOGIAE

Journal for reflection on missiological issues and mission practice in Central and Eastern Europe

ACTA MISSIOLOGIAE, an interdenominational, peer-reviewed, missiological journal with a particular focus on Central and Eastern Europe. Intentionally interconfessional, it seeks to balance Orthodox, Roman Catholic, Mainline Protestant, and Evangelical-Charismatic perspectives.

ACTA MISSIOLOGIAE seeks to address academic as well as practical issues. The journal assists missiologists and church leaders to keep current in their missiological thinking through articles, book reviews and can serve as a resource for those teaching missiology.

ACTA MISSIOLOGIAE exists to provide a meeting place for reflection on missiological issues and mission practice in Central and Eastern Europe.

ACTA MISSIOLOGIAE is published once a year by the Central and Eastern European Institute for Mission Studies (CIMS) of the Károli Gáspár University of the Reformed Church in Hungary (KRE) in close cooperation with the Central and Eastern European Association for Mission Studies (CEEAMS).

ACTA MISSIOLOGIAE would like to act as an exchange journal. This means that missiological journals from around the world can be exchanged for ACTA MISSIOLOGIAE. Participating institutions can send their journals to CIMS and receive the annual publication(s) of ACTA MISSIOLOGIAE in return. Postage costs are covered by the respective sending institutions.
